1. LOS ANGELES
HAEFELE DESIGN, INC.
One of the most visually pleasing aspects of this Malibu, California, oceanfront home's streamlined kitchen is its marble waterfall island with a custom solid teak wood bar top that cantilevers asymmetrically.

2. DALLAS + FORT WORTH
SMITHARC ARCHITECTS
A study in contrasts, this Dallas kitchen features a limited yet rich palette of marble and glass set against a background of warm, tactile oak planking.

3. CHICAGO
ROBBINS ARCHITECTURE
Located on Lake Mendota in Madison, Wisconsin, this home's kitchen combines a livable modern feel with the charm of the lake vernacular; expansive windows capture the surrounding views.

4. COLORADO
ANDREA SCHUMACHER INTERIORS
Designed to celebrate the joys of travel, family and artful living, this kitchen is one of two—one for entertaining and one for working—located in a midcentury modern Denver home.

5. NEW YORK
DOUGLAS C. WRIGHT ARCHITECTS
This Short Hills, New Jersey, kitchen with a generous island at its center features a mix of raw-wood cabinet fronts, thick glass counters, tile and traditional glass-and-wood upper cabinets.

6. HOUSTON
MARIE FLANIGAN INTERIORS
Loved ones easily gather at this Bellaire, Texas, kitchen's double islands and dining table; custom iron cabinets pair with Neolith counters, while sconces layer over a backsplash of hand-molded subway tile.

7. ARIZONA
THE REFINED GROUP
Designed to reflect the client's experiences in the European countryside, this sophisticated Phoenix kitchen is awash in sage green and features custom lanterns, Calacatta countertops and reclaimed beams.

8. PALM BEACH | BROWARD
JMA INTERIOR DESIGN, INC.
Pale green subway tile sets the tone for this soft Jupiter, Florida, space, while rift-cut oak on the ceiling beams and vent hood surround adds visual interest and texture.

9. PACIFIC NORTHWEST
LEEANN BAKER INTERIORS LTD.
In Mercer Island, Washington, a home's black, white and brass color scheme was woven into the kitchen to help it blend seamlessly with the elegance of the surrounding living spaces.

10. AUSTIN + SAN ANTONIO
HAVEN DESIGN & CONSTRUCTION
This San Antonio kitchen answered the clients' request for a light and airy space with white walls, sleek finishes and a transitional-to-modern style; European white-oak flooring adds warmth.

11. SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA
BLACKBAND DESIGN
Designed in collaboration with architect Robert Sinclair and builder Andrew Patterson, this modern Newport Beach, California, kitchen blends beauty and functionality with high-gloss white lacquered cabinetry and a spacious marble waterfall island.

12. SAN FRANCISCO
JENNIFER ROBIN INTERIORS
A neutral palette gives this Lake Tahoe, California, kitchen year-round suitability, while expansive pivot windows create a breathtaking connection with the outdoors.

13. BEST OF THE REST
GEOFF CHICK AND ASSOCIATES
In Santa Rosa Beach, Florida, this kitchen features a striking wall clad in marble tile surrounding a custom stainless vent hood fabricated by Saltwater Steel.

1. NEW YORK
CAROL KURTH ARCHITECTURE, PC
Readers' Choice, Contemporary Architecture

Double-height cathedral spaces, grand scissor trusses and floor-to-ceiling glazing all contribute to the dramatic look of a living room in a Gallatin, New York, house that celebrates its lakefront views.

2. SAN FRANCISCO
KRISTE MICHELINI INTERIORS
Readers' Choice, Classic Interior Design

A concrete fireplace in the living room establishes a tone of low-key elegance in a home with a neutral palette and modern furnishings—the perfect backdrop for a newly blended family of six in Danville, California.

3. BEST OF THE REST
KEN TATE ARCHITECT
Readers' Choice, Classic Architecture

Designed to pay homage to the streetscape of Saint Charles Avenue, a Mediterranean Revival villa in New Orleans features a spacious rear courtyard that makes the most of water features, with a deep swimming pool and a Roman-style fountain.

4. SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA
ESTUDIO FRISCH INC.
Readers' Choice, Bathroom

With marble tile walls and natural Jatoba wood ceilings, a master bathroom in Coronado, California, is an inviting and versatile retreat. In the adjacent courtyard, bamboo grows through a skylight, filtering natural light.

5. NEW YORK
DAUN CURRY DESIGN STUDIO
Readers' Choice, Contemporary Interior Design

This dining room's wall of Calacatta gold marble provides a warm background for modern art and furnishings in the chic Rye, New York, home of an art collecting young family.

6. NEW YORK
DOUGLAS C. WRIGHT ARCHITECTS
Readers' Choice, Major Restoration or Renovation

For the striking renovation of an 1830s farmhouse in Cornwall, Connecticut, many of the original details were preserved—as with the door and baseboards in this living room—while generous new room configurations allow for the ascendance of natural light.

7. DALLAS + FORT WORTH
REBECCA WINN, WHIMSICAL GARDENS
Readers' Choice, Landscape Design/Outdoor Living

A labyrinthine theme and exclusively white blooms unify three distinct outdoor spaces that range from classic to modern in the calming geometric garden of a historic Dallas abode.

8. PACIFIC NORTHWEST
LEEANN BAKER INTERIORS LTD.
Readers' Choice, Kitchen

A kitchen for a Mercer Island, Washington, dwelling was opened up to sun and views with higher ceilings and larger windows; the white marble tile backsplash contributes to the light and bright look.
